U. S. ACCEPTS CARRANZA'S RECIPROCAL OFFER: CONGRESSMEN WANT PREPAREDNESS HURRIED

CAVALRY IS READY FOR FRAY

Washington, D. C., March 13.—The United States this afternoon accepted General Carranza's proposal for a reciprocal arrangement by which either his troops or American troops may pursue bandits on either side of the border. A formal compliance was sent forward to Gen. Carranza at Queretaro.

El Paso, Texas, March 13.—In spite of official denials, reports persisted here today that American cavalry on the Arizona state line had gathered for immediate crossing of the Mexican border and that they might go across at any moment today. An advance guard of several cavalry troops was collected on that border two days ago with the prospect that it might be the first force into Mexico.

The point where the cavalry expedition is reported gathering to enter Mexico from the Arizona boundary is near San Bernardino, Mexico.

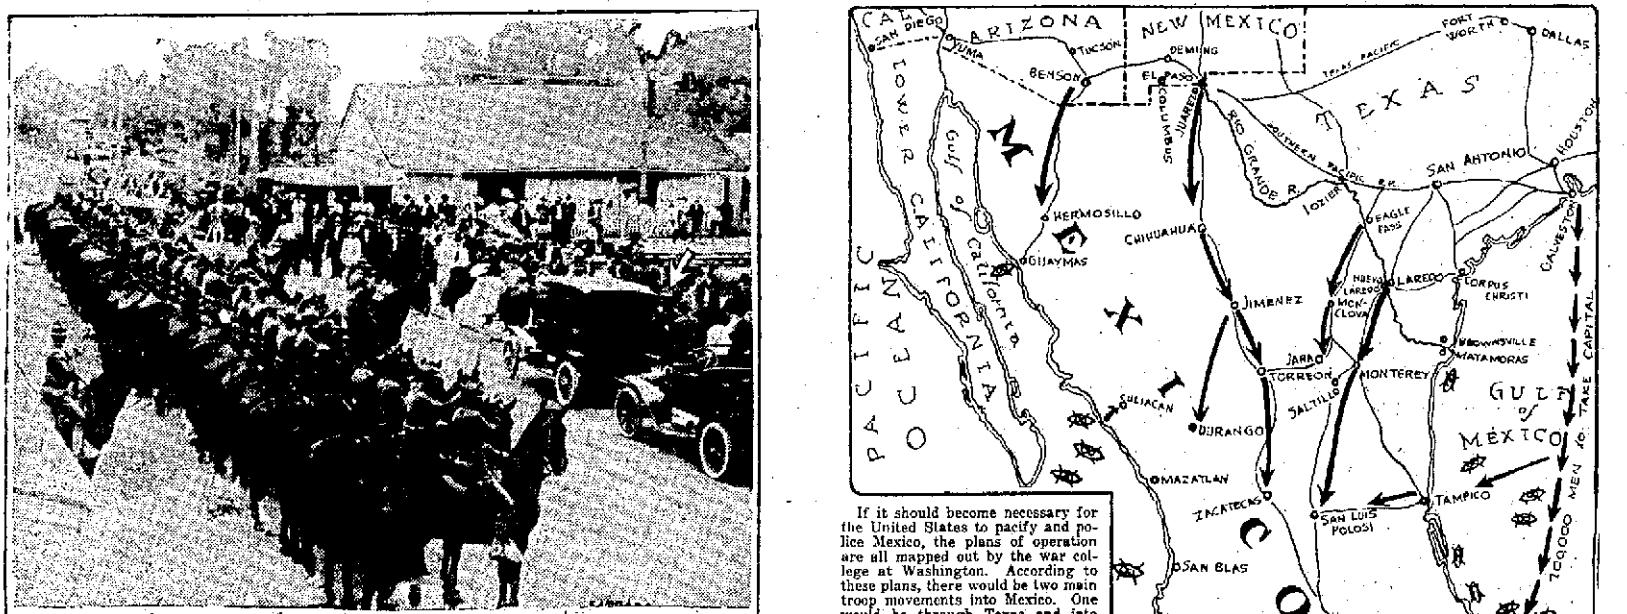

San Francisco, Calif., March 13.—An embargo on shipments of war munitions from this port to Mexican points was declared today by John O. Davis, collector of the port in accordance with instructions from Washington.

Cleveland, O., March 13.—Manufacturers of automobiles in Cleveland today received urgent requests from the war department at Washington for data concerning their ability to turn out munitions for use in Mexico and along the international border. The requests related principally to motor trucks and bids were invited on certain classes.

New York, March 13.—All Americans, employees of the American Smelting and Refining Company have been withdrawn from Mexico, it was announced today by the company.

San Antonio, Tex., March 13.—No movement of the expeditionary force that will search for Francisco Villa is probable today, Major General Funston announced. The General said preparations for the expedition were going on, despite Gen. Carranza's intimation to the Washington government that he would not consent to American troops entering Mexico unless Carranza troops

Wanted Police To Work So He Turned In Call For The Patrol; Now He's Sorry He Did It

McKinley Hurd, a North End colored youth, perhaps felt that Portsmouth's sixteen night policemen were taking things too easy Saturday night, and in order to get some action, he put in a call for the patrol.

It was about 10:30 o'clock when Hurd called for the wagon to come to Twelfth and Railroad streets. Asked who wanted the wagon he replied that Officer Tom Albrecht desired it. A moment later Albrecht called up, headquarters and inquired as to who had summoned the wagon. He was told what Hurd had said. A few minutes later Albrecht arrested Hurd, who was drinking.

For his interference with the police department Hurd on Monday was fined $25 and in default of payment ordered to work out the fine.

Richard Johnson, a painter, of Gallia and Clay streets, who since his wife went to Zanesville on a visit, had been "shantying" at Mrs. Bird Nelson's home in an alley near Eighth and Washington streets, pleaded not guilty to drunkenness and disorderly conduct though admitting that he had been singing at a late hour. Miss Chatatine Cooper, who also rooms at the same place, too denied that she had been disorderly. According to Johnson's story he had invited some friends to his room and they had been quietly drinking from a can of beer when the officers came in at 1:30 Sunday morning. Asked who disordered his eye he said Officer Harding slapped him during dispute they had about some remark Harding attributed to him. The two cases were continued until evening pending the testimony of the arresting officers.

Boone Snapp, who was arrested for entering Front street houses to sleep off a jag Saturday, was fined $10 and a man giving the name of Lou Mills, who had been drunk and boisterous at Front and Union streets, was assessed

Alice Brady
In "The Rack" at the Lyric Wednesday

Alice Brady is starred in World Film Corporation's sensational film play "The Rack". The original stage drama was written by Thompson Buchanan, who provided the famous theatrical manager with material for one of his most conspicuous successes.

The story is an ideal one for pictures. Blanche Gordon permits herself to be involved with a disreputable admirer in a road-house adventure. The man is shot and Blanche is tried for the murder. At the end of a harrowing scene with the District Attorney she confesses that she shot her assailant in defense of her honor. She is about to be sentenced when the real murderer, an enemy of the dead man, who is present in court, declares himself guilty of the crime.

Emile Chautard is the director of the picture, and there is a powerful cast supporting Miss Brady, including Milton Sills.

"The Rack" will be shown at the Lyric on Wednesday and it will prove to be one of the most powerful, most startling pictures ever seen.

Cora appears makes them believe that he has accidentally shot himself while cleaning his gun. He turns the money over to Mark and dies happy thinking he has assured the happiness of his daughter.

Today's Keystone comedy is a good one entitled, "Patty and the Broadway Stars", and in it are Fatty Arbuckle, Mack Sennett, Fred Maca, Chester Conklin, Weber and Fields, Willie Collier and Sam Bernard; just think of that bunch of comedy talent in one picture. Query? Can you afford to miss today's picture?

Hazel Dawn in Rare Combination of Laughs and Thrills

If you have smiled unconsciously in response to the irresistible smile of Hazel Dawn as she appears before you on the motion picture screen in former Famous Players productions, her next appearance in "My Lady Ineig," which is to be the Paramount picture at the Lyric for tomorrow will be a revelation. As Nell Carroll in this thrilling comedy drama, Miss Dawn does the best work of her motion picture career, far eclipsing anything that she has ever done.

In addition to the far-fetched drama and the personality that has enchanted her audiences, Hazel Dawn displays a snap and dash in her portrayal of the girl detective that is captivating and delightful. Nell Carroll is a southern girl of good birth and fine breeding, who suddenly discovers that her old home is mortgaged to the limit and will be lost if she cannot raise the money to meet the obligations. She has never been trained for any specific work, but finally obtains employment in a detective agency.

Several big robberies have been committed on the huge summer estate in one of the fashionable summer colonies and the agency is requested to handle the case. It is evident that it is an "inside" job—that is, that someone in the household, either a servant or a guest, is doing the stealing. There is only one way to work against such people, and that is to tighten them from the inside. Accordingly, Nell Carroll is sent to the town where she is heralded in the papers as the Baroness Du Vassay, Mrs. De Veaux, whose home seems the logical place for the next big haul, calls upon the "baroness" and invites her to her house, little suspecting that she is a detective.

In a very short time the girl finds strong evidence that points to Mrs. De Veaux's own son, Teddy, as the thief. Despite the fact that she is becoming greatly interested in him, she decides to do her duty and lays a trap for him. Meanwhile Rene Lidal, the real crook, becomes suspicious of the authenticity of Nell's title, and decides to outface her, and presents himself at the De Veaux home as the Baron Du Vassay. Roast by her own pot! Nell does not know whether she has stumbled is the title of the episode of the "Stingaree" picture which is the headliner for tonight. See Stingaree in several more of his dangerous and narrow escapes from capture. He again foils the officers after a merry chase. "A Case of Eugenics" is a side splitting Vitagraph comedy that will make you laugh for 15 minutes. "The Musketeers of Pig Alley" is a very interesting Biograph drama. See tonight's show sure. Only five cents. Another chapter of "The Girl and the Game" Tuesday.

Cleopatra Feature at the Strand Tonight.

"Her Defiance" Rex two-reel drama, featuring Cleo Madison, Universal star in a strong play of human emotions, full of pathos and comedy. Miss Madison portrays a country girl under the dominance of a hard hearted brother, who forces her into an unwilling marriage.

"Uncle Sam at Work No. 4," under the title "Uncle Sam's Protégés at Work and Play" is a continuation of those highly instructive inside views of naval activities. The comedy number for tonight is a screamingly funny Nestor comedy called "Flivver's Good Turn" and depicts Mr. Flivver in the role of a burglar.

Feeling greatly benefited by a most pleasurable sojourn at Pinehurst, N. C., George A. Goodman of the Gilbert Grocery Company returned home Saturday evening. He took part in a golf tournament in which there were 269 participants. He figured prominently in it and would probably have grabbed one of the prizes had not his play been hampered by a sore arm.

CHURCH CANVASS IS A BIG SUCCESS

Finding most of the members of the First Presbyterian church at home ready to receive the committee named to secure pledges for the new church, the various committees who looked after this work Sunday afternoon found it a real pleasure.

"We accomplished more and secured more pledges in the short time we were out Sunday than ever before," a member of the committee stated Monday. So many pledges were secured that the church is assured of another prosperous and active year and members of the committee feel elated over the good results of their work.

George D. Seudder was chairman of the committee.

TRIES TO KILL SELF WHEN HUSBAND ABANDONS HER

New Boston Woman Did Not Want To Live After Quarrel

After being kissed goodbye by her husband, Burrel Jordan, who was going to leave her Mrs. Jordan, of 59 East Rhodes avenue, New Boston, made an unsuccessful attempt to end her life by draining part of the contents of a one-fourth ounce vial of carbolic acid about five o'clock Saturday afternoon. Brooding over domestic affairs is given as the cause of the attempted suicide.

According to Mrs. Jordan their domestic troubles have been caused by her husband's jealousy. After a bitter quarrel on Saturday March 4th Mrs. Jordan claims her husband made her leave. She returned the following Tuesday and he left and made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Bessie Boggs in the village.

Saturday afternoon he returned for his clothes. He had finished dressing and had his overcoat on.

Always consult an architect —he is a "clearing house" of building experiences

Just as you respect the vast amount of work and care it has taken for you to succeed in your business, so you should respect the architect in his business. As an originator and a "clearing house" of building ideas and experiences—gained from putting up many buildings, also from studying the trend of building laws and future needs of housekeeping, he arranges the building so that it shall later suit other folks in case you sell or rent.

Why architecture depends upon comfort

You may build in the joyous Spring-time or Summer, and think only of porches and screens, but the architect always keeps before him a vision of the grim Winter-Kings. He knows that when the bitter cold days come, any occupied building will be a failure that is not cleanly, healthfully, genially warmed by coal-economizing radiator heating. These outfits change houses into homes, change barn-like stores into pleasant shops!

Wherein architects save heating costs

The architect will more than earn his fee by alone making the radiator heating outfit cost you nothing, through omitting from the plans the extra chimneys, needless mantels, useless inner doors, double window sash, weather strips, storm doors, etc.

Architects study future values for you

Those who build hope for the neighborhood to improve and value to increase. The architect helps you to study keenly the future of the locality. He will prove to you that property modernized with IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators will readily command a larger loan from bankers; or, you can sell property quicker and get full money back; or 10% to 15% higher rental and from better satisfied tenants, who stay long.

Proofs of lowest-priced heating

The testimony of a million owners at home and abroad prove the fuel economy. There is absence of repairs—no wearing out—the screwed-tight joints prevent ash-dust and soot damage to furnishings and decorations. These outfits are simplest to run and property earns lowest insurance rate. IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators are the best that money can buy, pay for themselves! Fully guaranteed.

Your architect will tell you that the foundation of comfort is AMERICAN IDEAL heating.

No one accepting such large responsibilities charges so little as does the architect—for his is largely a profession of public service. You should therefore take advantage of his "clearing house" of ideas and experiences by consulting him and let him show you at any of our public showrooms the pattern and size of IDEAL Boiler and AMERICAN Radiators that will exactly fit your building needs and which will burn the kind of fuel most abundantly and cheaply available in your locality.

Architects know how this heating pays!

The IDEAL Heating outfit is the only equipment put into a building that will never be worth less than you pay for it, and will repeatedly repay by 100 years of service its original cost, through fuel and labor savings and absence of repairs. Can you possibly invest money better or more safely than this?

ODD AND ALSO IMPOSSIBLE

In drafting a statute to make the recently adopted prohibitory amendment effective, the Virginia legislature has included a provision, adopted with the full consent of the Anti-Saloon managers, that all cider sold or used in the state must be made in Virginia. This is a most remarkable provision, especially to receive the approbation of godly temperance leaders and the votes of legislators, most of whom are lawyers. The vilest, meanest and most deleterious intoxicant is hard cider. Its victim is the most wretched of all drunkards. Compared with it 40-rod whiskey is an emollient, a balm, a blessing, more innocuous than a baby food. But the "temperance" powers of the Old Dominion propose to allow it, provided they alone are permitted to make it. But the thing can not be "did." The statutes and constitution of these United States stand firm and immovably against it. The federal law sometimes runs riot on the matter of protection and embargo, but it will not allow the separate states to blunder and sin likewise. No commonwealth can pass an act—yes it can too for there is no law preventing a legislature making an ass of itself—no commonwealth then can enforce a measure, scheme or device which gives it monopoly against a sister state. Virginia can prohibit the manufacture and sale of malt, vinous, or spirituous liquors within her own confines, shutting herself and the other states out, but she can't say she'll set up an exclusive privilege in herself to make and dispose of cider, not to legal effect.

NO WONDER THEY DID IT

There was vast fuss and fury over the McLemore resolution, the test of whether or not this or that congressman was standing back of the president. The measure was rejected, spurned, slaughtered by two to one and by that same token two congressmen were with Woodrow to one against him, in preserving the peace in dignity and honor, even if there has to be a fight for it. Of course, it seems like rather big odds, considering how politics runs in the land, but a part must be laid to the idea that some of those patriotic representatives of the plain people were making a rapid calculation while the vote was going on as to which side would furnish the butter for their bread. Then there was, doubtless something in the author that led to the coarse and bloody assassination of his resolution, and we rather opine it was his name. For hear ye, he doesn't bear the patronymic of the ordinary mortal, but some unusual, ay, even outré. His full cognomen is Jeff: McLemore. Not the Christian Jefferson, after the patron saint of Democracy, nor yet just common Jeff, but Jeff, yes sir, would you ever believe, Jeff: McLemore, he himself informing the country, through the congressional director, that it is even so, particularly the colon.

A New York court decides that a theatre management can bar from its newspaper writer, whose reviews of the plays therein it does not like. Of a verity the tribunal goes further than that and holds that any place of amusement, may if it so choose, exclude any individual therefrom because he has blue hair, or red eyes, or is bald headed. All of which may be good law, but shows are rotten enough already.

The joke is right now on our valuable G. O. P. contemporaries, all more or less given to the boiler plate disease. They published a speech delivered by our good young governor at Tiffin, and accompanied it with fulsome encomium. It so happens our good young governor didn't deliver that speech at all. When he faced his audience he found he had the wrong dope and he gave them something entirely different from what had been sent out in plate form.

The esteemed Portsmouth, Va., Star refers to one as a "suppositionist" Democrat. Supposition is sure good. It gives the idea of how quickly and completely the species can change its mind as the pay flows.

Some papers talk about that $670,000 Charlie Chaplin salary as though they didn't know better than ninety per cent is added for publicity's sake.

POLLY AND HER PALS

SEVERAL BORN EVERY MINUTE?

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O'MINTYRE.

New York, March 13—A lot of magazine illustrators—or maybe it would be better to call them manufacturers—are going to have to get down to hard pan shortly or go to work. They are being elbowed out of their jobs by the movie actors.

The illustrations for the principal serial now running in a big weekly magazine were posed by movie actors and it is said that many more are not only to follow in this magazine but many others.

New York art editors have long complained that illustrators do not attend to the detail of their work and are slip shod. If the girl in the story is a small dark person with a piquantly tip tilted nose, the illustrator shows a big statuesque blond Venus.

If she wears a sweater and totes a dog she is shown in an evening gown and if she is supposed to be sitting on a rustic bench the illustrator will show her talking to the leader of an orchestra. In other words the artists do not seem bound to the author's necessarily foolish ideas.

Now movie actors are hired and the best picture on the film is enlarged, the back ground improved and illustrations made from it.

The members of the New York Correspondents' Club put on the "feed bags" at the McAlpin Winter Garden last week. The club is composed of the men who send news from New York to big newspapers of other cities.

One requirement for membership is that the correspondent shall be a "direct wire" man. That is, he must have direct telegraphic connection between his office in New York and the office of his newspaper.

The club now has more than 40 members and under a special provision the number includes representatives of newspapers in Benon Ayres, Tokio, Havana and Mexico City. The European correspondents have their own club but they are not fraternizing.

Broadway makes New York look like a county fair. Those figures that drop in parachutes, the banners, kite fashion, that advertise gum and musical comedies, and the green structures of the subway are characteristic.

The Board of Aldermen have deprived sandwich men of their occupation by barring walking advertisements but they do not seem to object to the floating ones which are much more unsightly.

More than 50 sandwich men known well to Broadwayites have been forced to move to the less populated streets. They are inoffensive and with many of them it is about the only way they can keep from starving.

THE KITCHEN AND THRIFT

The first savings bank is said to have been started well towards the close of the eighteenth century, at Tottenham, Middlesex, England, by a woman, Miss Priscilla Wakefield.

This may be a surprising fact, but it is altogether a logical one. Woman has, ever since, providence for the future, featured the aspirations of the human race, played her full part as the goddess thereof. More men save after marriage than before. There are two reasons for this, the sobering that the assumption of responsibility to others brings and the personal example and influence of the wife.

Thrift, which as we said but a day or two ago in these columns, is greater than saving, originates oftenest in the kitchen, at least without abiding there it has ill chance to succeed. Samuel Johnson spoke of Thrift as the daughter of Prudence, the sister of Temperance and the mother of Liberty. Another philosopher of old acclaimed frugality as the mother of all virtues. A Scotch proverb has it, "a man who would thrive must ask his wife's leave," and that most distinguished Scotchman, Sir Walter Scott had hung in his kitchen as the most essential point the motto: "Waste not, want not." If woman has been queen of the household, her rule is nowhere more absolute and unmolested than in the kitchen. If she displays the qualities of saving and thrift there, it is altogether likely the example will extend to all the practices of the family. And mind saving and thrift are not other names for stinginess and meagreness. They stand rather for sufficiency without excess and utilization that saves waste, or total loss. Of a truth, a curious thing in our observation is that saving, thrifty families seem to live best, somehow their tables are set with better tasting food and there is never a lack nor the ill-taste of over abundance, while order, neatness and elegance are more apparent on every hand.

Rather than discount these stories we have had from time to time about these foreign guns that would carry twenty miles and more, the longest possible range, with any degree of accuracy is 18,000 yards, approximately 11 miles. At this distance the guns of one ship in practice hit the target seven times out of forty-two discharges. In the European war, so far, ships have not fought at a greater distance than 16,000 yards. At 12,000 yards, less than eight miles, American ships can hit an enemy vessel from eighty to ninety percent of the number of times fired.

And thus he leaves the wholesome understanding that this nation is anything but the most puzy of weaklings, should it come to rough and tumble of war. At the same time he is in favor of a bigger and better navy.

Hon. A. P. Sandles says he will be a candidate for governor if so and so. And it will be just the luck of the poor old Democratic party to have every one of those so and so's happen—in other words having "Put" roosting on its shoulders as a candidate.

West Virginia shows a disposition to take Ohio's place as the ground of eternal politics. Let her take, say we, and be welcome to it.

Congressman Kearns' vote on standing by the president would afford an opponent in his own party a fine show for his white allies.

They have some wonder workers in the way of committees. One went out to get $1,600 to sweep the streets, and it came back with $2,500.

One week more and spring will be officially here. We bespeak confidently the glad hand to her.

We reckon Senor Villa is mighty near the end of his rope and the right end at that.

YES, ASHUR'S GOT A JOB

much these days.

The rapid growth of trade with South America, due to conditions created by the war, is evidenced by the extraordinary increase in the number of business men from Latin America at the New York hotels.

At the Ritz, Plaza, Majestic and Waldorf, the Spanish-speaking guest has become so important a matter that an entire department of information has been provided at each hotel and there are clerks, maids, telephone operators and guides who speak Spanish.

Girard's restaurant is on William street and it is the headquarters for a portion of the French colony in New York. There is a pretty little French woman who sits at the desk and is on terms of pleasant banter with the guests.

For some time she has noticed upon letters received from her home in France the penciled inscription:

"Bonjour, madame—Henri."

She has wrinkled her pretty brow in an effort to determine who Henry might be. There was something faintly familiar about the writing. The other day she turned over some old accounts and came upon Henri's traces. He had once been a waiter in the little restaurant on William street.

Broadway makes New York look like a county fair. Those figures that drop in parachutes, the banners, kite fashion, that advertise gum and musical comedies, and the green structures of the subway are characteristic.

The Board of Aldermen have deprived sandwich men of their occupation by barring walking advertisements but they do not seem to object to the floating ones which are much more unsightly.

The Function of Mere Man

The ladies made an exceptionally radiant appearance in the most elaborate and modish of evening gowns, while the gentlemen draped themselves in the background filling in the bare spots, their evening dress suits answering that purpose admirably. From the point of dress, alone, the party surpassed all previous efforts and the ladies present were furnished ample opportunity to view the very latest in styles and color combinations. There was class and plenty of it to the Shrine party this year—Coldwater (Mich.) Reporter.

"My Dear, You Should Have Seen Her!"

(Received by an artist)
Dear Sir: Seeing your advertisement in the evening paper seeking lady models, I thought I would write. I am a young lady who has done this work before, and I know I would please you people very much. If I had a photograph of myself at my present age I would enclose it, but seeing that I have not, I will hereby describe myself. I am a young lady five feet six inches (5 feet 6 inches) tall and of the blonde type. Hair, dark brown and very long, the length of it is, from the scalp to my knees which is, forty-five inches (45 inches). Complexion, very white. Eyes, dark and large, fringed with long black lashes and arched with thin black eyebrows. Nose, small and straight. Mouth, small with well formed lips, you might say perfect lips. Teeth, white and very pretty. Chin, small. Ears, small. My face taken as a whole, (now you must remember I am giving you a full description of myself) contains four (4) very beautiful dimples, one in my right cheek very large and deep, number two (2) in my left cheek large, number three (3) in left cheek, small, number four (4) in my chin to the right is also small. Face round and small. Neck and shoulders, broad, and well developed. Bust, thirty-six inches (36) inches. Waist measure, twenty-one inches (21 inches). Hips, large and well rounded. Limbs, very shapely. Feet, small with very high instep and wears a three and one-half (3½) slipper. I am a young lady well bred of good moral parents and well educated. Hoping to hear from you soon, I remain, etc.

March

Now March succeeds the late deceased,

To winter's fag-ends fated; With lengthening days, and cold decreased,

With springlike hopes full freighted;

With softening soil—by some termed mud—

With bird, bee, and crocus, And snap-thrilled bough, and urgent bud,

And all such bocus-pocus;

With horsetail blast and balmy breath,

'Times mild, 'times tanged intensely;

To some folk fearsome 'most as death,

By some admired immensely;

With large relief from sundry ills,

Say winter-itch and chilblains,

And frozen pipes and plumbers' bills,

And frequent fuel-bill pains;

With tempers twain, traducers charge,

Both lamb and lion showing;

Happo's yet pleasant, by and large,

Tho' none need mourn her going.

—Philadelphia Ledger.

Rough on the Court

Judge Phillips' pedigree was read by Mrs. Liggett today as far back as the court's memory raneth. The court had an affidavit filed and after examination by two physicians was committed to the hospital.—Athens, O., Messenger.

Booming the Home Town

A Wilt now lives in his new home in West Warrenburg. He starts out to make good on his citizenship. The first dash was the receipt of three pedigreed pups from Muskogee, Okla. These pups will likely bring in $3 revenue to the village, besides many other valuable things Mr. Wilt will do for us. We certainly welcome him in our midst.—The Warrensburg (Ill.) Times.

Your Eyes Are Your Bread Winners

Take care of them. If you would stop and think what it would mean to be deprived of your eye-sight how utterly helpless you would be you wouldn't abuse your eyes in the least, but would take the greatest care of them always.

The moment you feel that anything is wrong—if your sight is blurred, if you feel dizzy, if your eyes tire easily, you should not lose a minute in having them examined. By going promptly in attending to your eyes at the first sign of trouble you will be able to have the defect speedily and permanently cured.

We make no charge for examination and recommend glasses only when necessary.

"Neal Of The Navy"10th episode of this big serial entitled
"The Rolling Terror""The Papered Door"
2 part Essanay dramaMiss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 60.

Dear Dolly.—Which is the best way to hang door blinds, over the curtain or under the curtain? BLUE YES.

Dear Miss Wise.—I saw my steady walk out Chillicothe street with another girl last Friday night. Shall I tell him about it? MABEL.

He probably knows it already.

Dear Miss Wise.—Why was the Isle of Pines turned over to Cuba after having been on the United States maps under President McKinley?

SCHOOL BOY.

The Isle of Pines (Isla de Pinos) was never a part of the United States. At the close of the Spanish-American war capitalists from the United States purchased large holdings of real estate on that island and began an agitation for its annexation to this country.

On appeal from the Cuban Republic the United States government in 1905 utterly repudiated the agitators and declared the Island of Pines an integral part of Cuba. A decision of the supreme court to that effect was handed down on April 8, 1907.

Dear Miss Wise.—I have a son almost twenty and he is infatuated with a very pretty girl whose entire attention seems to be divided between dress and dances. Her family isn't altogether the kind I would want my son to marry into, either. What do you think would be the best way to proceed to break off this affair? ARISTOCRAT.

Don't express your disapprobation of the young woman to your son—don't object to his going with her all he wants, and if he wants to bring her to see you, treat her courteously, because opposition in these affairs is only fuel to the flame. Careful Cincinnati People

Now Treat Colds "Externally"

Take a Hot Bath—a Good Rub Down With Vick's Vap-O-Rub and Then Leave Your Bedroom Windows Wide Open for the Night. No Internal Dosing Will Be Needed.

After Applying Vick's Vap-O-Rub Over Throat and Chest, You Should Cover With a Warm Flannel Cloth. The Body Heat Vaporizes the Ingredients Which are Breathed In All Night Long.

In the old days people used to think that fresh air caused colds, and consumptives and pneumonia patients were shut up in air tight rooms, and, as a result, usually died. Nowadays, we know that for all forms of cold troubles, the more good fresh air we can get, the quicker is the recovery.

Cincinnati people have found the best treatment to be a good rub with Vick's Vap-O-Rub Salve, covered with a warm flannel cloth, and then leave the windows wide open for the night. The body warmth releases the ingredients in the form of vapors that carry the medication with each breath, through the air passages to the lungs. Croup is usually relieved in fifteen minutes and most colds over night.

Vick's Vap-O-Rub can be had in druggists.

MRS. FLORA SENCAS, 523 Danbridge Street, reports:

"I have used Vick's Vap-O-Rub for my daughter, and it just did so much good in using it just once, that now when the rest of the family get a cold, they say—'Mother, please fix me up like you did sister.'

MRS. FRED M. CALLAHAN, 1029 St. Gregory Street:

"I have four sons, aged from sixteen months to seven years, and I find that your remedy has done them a world of good in preventing attacks of croup and heavy colds. Also, my sister, who is subject to catarrh, gets better relief from your remedy than from any other she has tried."

"Down With Americans!" Cries Villa. "Down With Villa!" Says Uncle Sam

General Villa, Secretary of War Baker and machine guns used on Mexican border.
"Dead or alive—get Villa"
These are the orders to American soldiers on the border who have just been itching to get at the Mexican bandits for murdering American citizens. Villa, the bandit, the man who was befriended by America in his efforts to gain control of the Mexican government, is held responsible for the massacre at Columbus, New Mexico.

He must answer to Uncle Sam. Secretary of War Newton D. Baker and other officials are convinced that these border troubles will not cease until Villa is either captured or slain.

The Drug, Caffeine, In Coffee Is A Habit-Forming Agent

Bulletin 393, U. S. Department of Agriculture, entitled "Habit-Forming Agents," referring to caffeine and other ingredients used in the manufacture of certain soft drinks, headache mixtures, etc., says:

"Until recently it was claimed by some that these agents were harmless and did not belong to the habit-forming group. Later investigations, however, clearly show that this position is unwarranted."

The average cup of coffee contains about 2½ grains of caffeine. Mothers give it to their children and wives give it to their husbands—unconscious of the harm coffee does to health.

When the nerves cry out, or indigestion, biliousness, headache or heart flutter begin to trouble, it's time to look to the cause.

An easy, sure way out of coffee troubles is to quit the coffee, and use

TROOPS AND GUNS BEING ASSEMBLED; A RING OF STEEL TO SURROUND VILLA

El Paso, Texas, March 13.—Daylight today revealed the beginnings of the expeditionary force which the United States army is gathering along the border west of here to use in the pursuit of Francisco Villa.

Six mountain guns, unloaded during the night, were in readiness at Columbus, New Mexico.

Fifty-seven carloads of battery mules and transport animals, also arrivals of the night, gave evidence that more guns were coming. Eleven hundred men were in the Columbus camp this morning.

Along two hundred miles of the border west of here, troop trains were reported, passing various points during the night, the result of orders telegraphed Friday by the war department. The other points, except Columbus, which might be used to assemble pursuit columns was not developed, but considerable activity was noted on the Arizona border near Nogales, and also in the vicinity of a small Mexican settlement called San Bernardino. In that region several troops of cavalry were reported in readiness for action.

It is reported that a few canons had been discharged in Mexican hills facing the American boundary near there, but elsewhere along the line where the American troops were gathering no signs of disquieting activity along the Mexican side were reported. Reports here that army officers at Columbus were puzzled at the attitude of Carranza troops several miles across the boundary were denied upon investigation. The army information was that 200 Carranza troops had gathered at Palomas, about twelve miles across the line from Columbus, and that the conduct of these troops was exemplary. These Palomas troops were part of a great ring which Carranza, officers at Matamoros say they are drawing about the desert and mountain refugees of Villa.

The northern section of this ring appears to be gathering in a position to make it rest between Villa and the assembling American column on the American side of the border. Reliable information has been received from American sources that the western side of the ring has been much strengthened, especially in the direction of the 500 American Mormon colonists, near Casas Grandes, about 175 miles south of the border, where Villa's maneuvers have raised the fear that he intended to attack the Americans.

Reports about Villa's activity were hazy.

Aiding the military, other branches of the government services were active tonight.

The dragnet for Villa sympathizers in El Paso last night resulted in the arrest of four generals, one general's secretary, a physician and an American.

The generals, all former Villa commanders, were Manuel Mollaneta, once chief of staff, Julio Fabela, Samuel Rodriguez and Juan Rodriguez.

The American gave his name to the police as E. A. Talbot. The physician, Dr. Villareal, was formerly an active Villa worker.

The uneasiness which prevailed at Deming, New Mexico, after the Columbus raid, has been relieved by the arrival there of two companies of the Twentieth United States infantry from Fort Bliss.

Columbus, N. M., March 13.—Actual concentration of United States troops for an expedition into Mexico to try to capture Francisco Villa was begun here today.

From the heavy troop movement to Columbus, it would seem, according to officers on station here, that this point is to be made a base of operations. It was believed here that John J. Pershing, brigadier-general, commanding the eighth brigade, would be designated to take charge of the expeditionary force and would make Columbus his headquarters.

The force of General Pablo Berardi, commanding the Carranza garrison at Palomas, on the Mexican side of the border south of here, was increased today by the arrival of 800 men, bringing his force to a total of 2,000.

By night, or tomorrow, it is expected that the American garrison here of 1,000 men will be augmented by the arrival of two regiments of infantry, a signal company, a hospital detachment and some mountain artillery from Fort Bliss at El Paso and a battery of the Sixth Field artillery from Nogales, Arizona. Two squadrons of the twelfth cavalry

LUNG MOTOR SAVES BABY

The lungmotor Underländer Roy Lynn recently added to his equipment was put to its initial test Sunday evening and proved its worth in that it brought to life a girl baby born apparently dead.

It was about 7 o'clock when Mrs. William Justice, wife of a Kentucky farmer, gave birth to a baby at their home, No. 831 Fourth street. There was no sign of life and the use of the lungmotor in the hope of restoring such was promptly decided upon. Drs. W. E. Gault and G. W. Martin operated the device, and after about two and one-half hours' incessant efforts the baby began breathing. A visit to the Justice home now would convince anyone that the infant is as lusty-lunged as any new born babe. She has been named Kathleen. The father is a step son of W. H. Wagner the Indian herb doctor. Mrs. Justice before her marriage was Miss Oda Huston. The child is their first born.

THEATRICAL

"Henpecked Henry"

The type of henpecked husband presented in Holton Powell's famous musical comedy, "Henpecked Henry", which will be seen here at the Sun theatre tonight, Friday and Saturday matinees daily, is absolutely different from the accepted idea of a stage "Barnaby". The character is a creation and unlike any other ever presented heretofore. It is a revelation in musical comedy characterization. "Henry" is henpecked and desperately afraid of his wife, but he never allows her to know it. Nine out of every ten husbands will appreciate "Henry", sympathize with him and secretly acknowledge in their own hearts that he is a replica of themselves. "Henpecked Henry" is drawn true to life and at the same time is the funniest character ever presented upon the American stage. The musical numbers are augmented by a chorus of pretty girls who wear the most gorgeous costumes ever used with a Tahloid production.

Prices matinee, 10 and 20 cents. Night, 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30 cents.

EARLY MORNING FATIGUE

When you awake in the morning feeling tired out, feeling worse in fact than when you wanted, you are confronted with one of the characteristic symptoms of neurasthenia. It is due to the run-down condition of the nerves that rest does not bring renewed strength and sleep refreshes the tired brain. Overwork and worry are the most frequent causes of this condition.

The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic. As the nerves get their nourishment from the blood the treatment must be directed toward building up the blood.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pill act directly on the blood and with proper regulation of the diet have proved of great benefit in many cases of neurasthenia. A tendency to anemia, or bloodlessness, shown by most neurasthenic patients, is also corrected by these tonic pills.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes $2.50. Begin the treatment at once before your condition becomes worse as there is a chronic form of neurasthenia.

Two useful books, "Diseases of the Nervous System" and "What to Eat and How to Eat," will be sent free by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., if you mention this paper.

were allowed to enter the United States.

It was officially announced that Brigadier General John P. Pershing will command the expeditionary forces.

General Funston said he had received no notification from Washington to hold back the expedition while negotiations were being completed with General Carranza.

General Funston said the announcement of the expedition's actual start into Mexico probably would come from Gen. Pershing to whom would be left the decision as to the exact hour for setting the movement afoot.

Shortage of rolling stock Gen. Funston said, was hindering the concentration of cavalry at the base of operations and this was one reason why a movement today was unlikely. The fault, he said, lay with the railroads west of El Paso.

"We have even had to transport men in box cars," he declared. "If this had been merely an infantry expedition we could have been into Mexico on Villa's very heels, but this is largely a cavalry movement, and that is why there has been delay."

Light was thrown on the expeditionary force by the General, who said: "When this movement is completed there will be only six or eight regiments left in the United States other than those troops stationed along the border from patrol duty."

The first aero squadron, Capt. Benjamin D. Foulois commanding went to El Paso this morning.

COLUMBUS

Columbus, O., March 13.—Adjutant General Hough today took the precautions of seeking an extensive camping ground on the outskirts of Columbus to be used as a mobilization center in case the Ohio National Guard should be called out for Mexican border service. After scouting about the suburbs for several hours, he indicated that one of two sites might be used. One of these was near Upper Arlington, northwest of Columbus, and the other near Camp Chase, which was used as assembly grounds by soldiers in the civil and Spanish wars. Both sites contain about 1,500 acres.

STEEL PLANT WORKMAN DIES FROM INJURIES

Man Falls 30 Feet; Is Fatally Injured; Dies At Hospital

Injuries suffered by Neil Barbee, aged 32, a pipe fitter employed in the plant of the Whitaker-Glessner Company, at 10:25 Saturday evening, resulted in his death at the Hempstead hospital at 12:45 Monday morning.

Barbee fell a distance of 30 feet and his right wrist was broken and he was injured internally, his body having struck a piece of machinery in its descent. Barbee was not considered in a dangerous condition until Sunday evening, when he underwent a serious change for the worse and he soon passed away.

A postmortem examination held over the body by Dr. Harry Schirrmann, of that city, and Dr. W. G. Cheney, of New Boston at the Lynn mortuary Monday morning, showed, they state, that the eighth and ninth ribs of the victim had been fractured by the fall and that internal hemorrhages resulted, ensuing Barbee's death. Blood flowed into the right and left lungs, causing a consolidation of the lungs and Barbee's death soon ensued," Dr. Schirrmann stated after the postmortem examination had been completed.

According to statements made at the offices of the Whitaker-Glessner Company, this morning, Barbee, who resided at 60 Grace street, New Boston, was using a wrench to tighten a bolt on a steel crane on which he was working. It is claimed that when he put all the strength he possibly had on the wrench to tighten the bolt the wrench slipped, and Barbee, losing his balance, plunged to the ground, a distance of 30 feet with genuine sorrow.

GIRLS SENT TO RESCUE HOME BY THE POLICE

May Hatfield and Birdie Wells, nineteen-year-old girls from Prestonsburg, Ky., were taken into custody for safekeeping by Officer Shonkwiler shortly after they alighted from N. & W. passenger train No. 15 Saturday evening.

The girls were aimlessly wandering about the vicinity of the depot but told the officer that they had come here in search of work. They gave the name of a family at whose home they said they expected to stay but investigation showed that this family had not been apprised of their coming and besides would be unable to accommodate them. The girls were sent to the Rescue home at 1916 Sixth street and arrangements were under way Monday for the city to provide them with transportation back home. They are believed to have run away from home.

Man Accused Of Forging Mother's Name Is Arrested

The Portsmouth postal authorities received official notice Sunday of the arrest at Troy, O., Saturday of John D. Walker of this city, on a serious charge.

Walker, who was lodged in the Troy jail, is charged with having forged the name of his mother, Mrs. John S. Lee, of 426 Fourth street, December 24, 1915, to a receipt for a $50 money order sent to her by her husband, who is an inmate of the National Military Home at Dayton, Ohio. The warrant for his arrest was issued by United States Commissioner Joseph Adler of Cincinnati.

Walker just previous to the money order transaction had forged his mother's name to a change of address card at the Portsmouth postoffice, changing from the above street address to the general delivery. When the money order came he forged his mother's name, making the order payable to himself. Harry H. Grice, the money order clerk on duty at the time, refused to cash the order for the man was unknown to him. Walker then hunted up a former employer, Billy Maier, who having worked for Mr. Maier as cook when the latter operated a saloon at Gay and Galia streets. Mr. Maier accompanied him to the money order window and identified him as Walker. Mr. Grice then cashed the order.

Walker had since made himself scarce about Portsmouth though he came home one night and left a note under his mother's door threatening to kill the whole family if they "peeped" on him. He has a brother at Troy who is said to be highly respectable and it is thought that it was while visiting him that he was arrested.

Some weeks ago it was reported that Walker was working in a nail mill at Ironton and David E. Thomas, assistant postmaster, and Billy Maier made a trip to that city but found it was not the man sought. The local police too have been keeping a sharp lookout for him.

Walker's family reside next door to the Lee home. His wife Mrs. Eva Robbins of Terre Haute, Ind., on Feb. 10th, 1915, made the following statement. "I had female troubles... and I was very nervous. I took all kinds of medicine but nothing did me any good until I commenced with CARDUI... I took the whole treatment and it cured me." As Sir Thomas More laid his head on the block he begged the executioner to wait a moment while he carefully placed his beard out of reach of the ax, for he said, "It hath not committed treason," which reminds one of the story of Simon Lord Lovat, who the day before his execution on Tower Hill bade the operator who shaved him be cautious not to cut his throat, as such an accident would cause disappointment to the gaping crowd on the next row--English Magazine.

It was officially announced that Brigadier General John P. Pershing will command the expeditionary forces.

General Funston said he had received no notification from Washington to hold back the expedition while negotiations were being completed with General Carranza.

General Funston said the announcement of the expedition's actual start into Mexico probably would come from Gen. Pershing to whom would be left the decision as to the exact hour for setting the movement afoot.

Shortage of rolling stock Gen. Funston said, was hindering the concentration of cavalry at the base of operations and this was one reason why a movement today was unlikely. The fault, he said, lay with the railroads west of El Paso.

"We have even had to transport men in box cars," he declared. "If this had been merely an infantry expedition we could have been into Mexico on Villa's very heels, but this is largely a cavalry movement, and that is why there has been delay."

Light was thrown on the expeditionary force by the General, who said: "When this movement is completed there will be only six or eight regiments left in the United States other than those troops station along the border from patrol duty."

The first aero squadron, Capt. Benjamin D. Foulois commanding went to El Paso this morning.

Salt rheum is one of the worst and unfortunately one of the commonest of all diseases. Now it attacks the skin. Itches, oozes, dries and scales and then does this all over again. ## 360 Deaths And 601 Births In Portsmouth In Year 1915

Baby Is Scalded

Columbus, March 13.—Ohio's birth and death rates for 1915 were nearly stationary as compared with those of 1914, but deaths from tuberculosis were a little higher, from pneumonia one-eighth more, and from automobile accidents nearly three-fourths greater. This is shown by the 1915 report of Dr. Morton W. Bland, chief registrar of vital statistics, made public today.

Portsmouth records show 360 deaths during 1915, a rate of 13.6

and 601 births, a rate of 22.7. Chillicothe had 226 deaths, a rate of 14.7 and 353 births, a rate of 23.1.

The number of babies born last year in Ohio was 101,985, making tuberculosis caused 6,663 a birth rate of 20.02 per 1000 of deaths, a rate of 131, compared population. Deaths numbered 66, with a rate of 130 in 1914. Organic 677, a rate of 12.98. Thus the state heart disease claimed even more got a net increase of 35,000 future victims, with 7766 deaths, a rate citizens, regardless of those who of 152. Even though the pneumonia epidemic this winter did not end with the last few days of 1915, it caused 6255 deaths, a rate of 122, as compared with 5528 deaths and a rate of 109 in 1914.

Massillon had not only the lowest death rate but also the lowest birth rate among Ohio cities. Steubenville showed the highest death rate and Akron the highest birth rate. A decrease in infant mortality was a significant feature of the report. Intestinal diseases caused 2301 deaths of babies under two years of age last year, although 2790 died from these causes in 1914.

A poppyox claimed 5061 victims, making a rate of 99, although from the same cause in 1914 only 4690 persons died.

Pellagra, the disease recently found prevalent in southern states, caused five deaths; two of these were in Cleveland and one each in Delaware county, Marietta and the Dayton soldiers' home. Seventy-nine died from lock-jaw, seven from rabies, two from anthrax and one from mumps. These were the most rare diseases disclosed in the report.

Following his method, therefore, he will begin with special educational, scriptural and historical lectures, thus laying a solid basis for the evangelistic campaign.

Guarded His Beard,

As Sir Thomas More laid his head on the block he begged the executioner to wait a moment while he carefully placed his beard out of reach of the ax, for, he said, "It hath not committed treason," which reminds one of the story of Simon Lord Lovat, who the day before his execution on Tower hill had the operator who shaved him be cautious not to cut his throat, as such an accident would cause disappointment to the gaping crowd on the scaffold.

REVIVAL BEGINS AT BIGELOW CHURCH SPECIAL SERMON TO BOYS AND MEN

Revival services opened Sunday morning at Bigelow church. Rev. C. E. Chandler spoke particularly to the men and boys of the church on "Grit." The central idea was built around

"Dare to be a Daniel."

Dare to stand alone.

Dare to have a purpose firm

Dare to make it known."

With a world of telling illustrative material, the value and glory of courage in the life of a boy and a man was deeply impressed. The appeal was very effective.

Life as a great battle field was the preacher's idea.

First the body holds the stage. Here the Phingocytes of the blood constantly do battle with every disease germ that threatens the health of the individual.

Second, in a boy's soul the fight is waged and many is the conflict for conscience sake.

Third, in the boy's world the conflict rages, and he either learns to say "No" and wins or he slips into the "Yes" habit and becomes a helpless social burden.

Often the boys are all alone in their battles with little or no helpful influence. This opens up the great field of opportunity for "Father."

The Bird's Tail.

In his "Story of the Birds" James Newton Bushnell says: To a slight extent in some birds the tail may be used as a rudder, but where the wing is perfect turning is effected with a very stout tail. The use of the tail always has more reference to the up and down movements than to the lateral. It comes into play in alighting on a branch or in rising as a kite-like surface and is used dexterously by the soaring birds in balancing them selves against varying currents of air.

SEDAN

This community lost one of its most lovable and respected residents on February 9, 1916, when Mrs. William Mercer, aged 75 years, passed to her eternal reward. She had been failing in health for several years, yet her death was a surprise to her friends, as she had been confined to her bed but a short time before her death. She leaves five children, thirteen grand-children and a host of friends to mourn her departure. The following sons and daughters survive: James Mercer and Mrs. Frank Cox, of Sedan; Albert Mercer, of Mt. Joy; Mrs. Robert Sloan, of Mrs. Grant Snyder, of Sciotoville. Mrs. Mercer and her grandson, Ed Mercer, lived together on a farm near Sedan. Interment was made in Brady cemetery. The writer respectfully dedicates to the memory of the deceased the following lines:

I'm going home, to be with Christ, my Savior,

Who guided me through life's long winter day,

Who kept my feet upon that sure foundation,

And led my steps along the narrow way.

I'm going home, to be with Him, Who never

Forsakes us if we trust Him day by day,

Who lifts us up 'mid sorrow and temptations,

And smoothes our path along life's rugged way.

I'm going home to be with my dear loved ones,

Who crossed the portal long, long years ago,

And left me here upon this earth to mourn them;

They're watching, waiting there for me, I know.

I'm going home to wait for those who linger

Upon this earth, bowed down with grief and care;

I'll watch and wait beyond the Silent River,

I'll watch and wait, for they will soon be there.

I'm going home, my work on earth is ended,

The Master calls—His call I must obey;

I'll praise His name forever and forever,

In that bright land of never-ending day. G. W. A.

WALLINGFORD

Again the Destroyer has entered our midst and took for his victim Mrs. Ruth Bowman, wife of J. S. Bowman, of Bowman Springs. For several months she had been a sufferer from this dread disease, cancer, and finally Death came as a happy release from her suffering. Mrs. Bowman was a woman of rare intellect and ability and was a leader in the community in which she lived. Not only in church work was she influential, but in all that tended to the upbuilding of the Kingdom and the enlightenment of humanity. Of her it might be said: "None knew her but to love her; none named her but to praise." To the poor and needy, the suffering and distressed, she ever ministered with gentle hands, seemingly never content unless engaged in some labor of love and kindness. But she is gone, to return "never more." Gone from the home over which she presided with such grace and dignity; gone from the husband who is left alone in his bereavement; and from the many friends and loved ones, whose trials and sorrows she had ever gladly shared. But her influence still remains, though she is hidden away in the dreary tomb, the memory of her upright life and Godly example will prove a Beacon light to many who tread "the sands of time." She was taken to Lancaster, her childhood home for interment. We command the sorrowing ones to Him Who hath said: "I am the Resurrection, the Truth and the Light." Some day they will stand with her before the high tribunal, where all shall be judged alike. May they so live that at life's close they may have the blest assurance of a home with her eternally.

Flood Protection Plans Are Endorsed By Waterway Experts

The views of Professor C. E. Sherman of the college of engineering, Ohio State University, suggesting scheme embracing flood protection, water conversion and a barge canal for the Scioto and Sandusky river valleys are attracting wide attention and strong endorsement from engineers and waterway experts throughout America.

Professor Sherman's views are set forth in his report on "The Ohio Water Problem," being published by the university and were partially outlined in the Ohio State Journal recently.

To give flood protection to the Scioto and Sandusky river valleys, and at the same time to assure other benefits, he recommends a system of dams and reservoirs by means of which some flood waters from the Scioto could be diverted through a cut across the divide into the Sandusky river and thence into Lake Erie.

Not only would this insure protection against high water, argues Professor Sherman, but it would also create an adequate water supply for generations to come, with splendid power facilities.

Also he points out in his report, it would render feasible the ultimate conversion of both streams into one great barge canal extending from the Ohio river to Lake Erie.

Professor Sherman, who has been engaged since 1911 in developing his plan, says there is no one universal remedy for flood protection, for every stream is a problem unto itself. The character of the country it drains must be considered, and it is on this basis he suggests his Scioto-Sandusky project.

The Scioto, rising in Hardin county, flows east nearly to Marion, and thence southward through Columbus. North of Columbus most of the channel is in bed rock, but in the neighborhood of Marion, the stream is on glacial drift and at the point of turning to the south is but a short distance from the source of the Sandusky river. Only a few miles of glacial debris separate the two streams. This divide is so low that in the flood of March, 1913, water from the Scioto flowed over it and was carried into Lake Erie. To cut a canal through this easily excavated drift material and connect the two rivers is a prime point in the Sherman plan.

Divert Water to North

Then, explains Professor Sherman, when heavy rains fall in Hardin and Marion counties, as they did to cause the flood of 1913, instead of letting the water rush down Marion, Columbus and points below, much of it can be diverted into the Sandusky river. Here it will be impounded in two large reservoirs, each scores of times the capacity of the Columbus storage dam. To force some of the Scioto water into the Sandusky river, there would be a dam across the Scioto at a point just west of Delaware. Other dams would be built on the Sandusky river to regulate the flow of water to and from the reservoirs.

Diverting Scioto floods into Lake Erie raises the question of passing on calamity and damage to the people in the Sandusky valley. This is answered by Professor Sherman, who points out the great storage capacities of the natural depressions in the glacial moraine of Wyandot county to be utilized as reservoirs. The flood water would simply spread out over these areas, which would serve likewise to impound freshets on the headwaters of the Sandusky river, thus affording safety to the north as well as to the south.

Moreover, water retained in these reservoirs from heavy rains would be gradually released to keep both rivers at a good level during dry spells and with this comparatively steady flow of water, both would be available for power production the year round. The channels would never become foul in hot weather and every city and village from Portsmouth to the lake would have an adequate water supply at all times.

This diversion of Scioto flood water to the northward not only would protect Columbus and the exceedingly rich farming lands below the city, but would prevent the flooding of more than 35 square miles of farming lands west of Marion. These suffered tremendous damage only last summer after heavy rains on the Scioto headwaters in Hardin county, and of course they were badly flooded in 1913.

Protection for Delaware is included in the Sherman plan which contemplates the building of a retaining dam just above that city and a detention basin to hold back much of the Olentangy's flood water.

Water power advantages worth an investment of millions of dollars are promised in the Sherman project, which calls attention to the fact that a daily average of nearly 40,000 theoretical horse power is going to waste between Columbus and Portsmouth, a distance of 100 miles with a fall of 219 feet. This cannot be utilized, however, with the great variation in the flow of water as at present. The flow of the Scioto at Columbus has gone as low as five second-feet and as high as 80,000 second-feet. With a constant flow, it would be practicable to utilize the water to create electric current, Professor Sherman thinks.

As to the cost of canalizing the lower Scioto, Professor Sherman writes that it should not exceed $100,000 per mile, while above Columbus the cost would be much less. He contrasts this with the New York barge canal, costing $300,000 a mile, and suggests the great advantage of such a canalized Scioto over the old-fashioned artificial channels. It is about 100 miles from Columbus to Portsmouth, so the cost of the southern end of the canal would be $10,000,000, according to his estimates.

The Scioto large canal would have a capacity of 35,000,000 tons per annum, which exceeds the estimate, according to the Sherman bulletin of the Chesapeake and Ohio Northern railroad now being built parallel to the Scioto from the Ohio river to Columbus at a cost of $110,000 a mile.

Professor Sherman shows that lake transportation is at least six times cheaper than rail, and quotes army engineers to the effect that barge transportation on the Ohio river is one of the cheapest modes of freight carrying in the world.

Not only would the Sherman plan settle the Ohio canal question once for all, the author avers, but it would put Columbus on a splendid water route through the Great Lakes and the Ohio river, with access to the greatest ore and coal producing regions in the world, and with every opportunity to enjoy enormous industrial development which would be state-wide.

Stating that the most important portion of progress in inland water transportation remains to be made, he urges a state policy that shall consider such a connecting link between the great water routes to the north and south of Ohio.

Feeble Old People Are Told How to Regain Strength and Vigor

Mrs. James A. Smith of Oakland, Cal., says: "My husband, now eighty-two years of age, is a retired Veteran of the Navy, and he has been strengthened and benefited a great deal by Vinol. My long experience with first class physicians and nurses enables me to discriminate in medicines, and I must say Vinol has proved its wonderful qualities to relieve and strengthen the whole system under very trying circumstances. When the blood is thin and needs strengthening, and to build up a depleted system, nothing equals Vinol."

Nothing equals Vinol to strengthening old people because the tonic iron, the medicinal properties of fresh cod's livers, beef peptone and mild native wine which it contains are the very elements needed to rebuild wasting tissue and recreate strength.

We ask every feeble, aged person in Portsmouth to try a bottle of Vinol, with the understanding that we will return their money if it fails. Frank Amann, druggist, Portsmouth, O.

AGED WOMAN IS DEAD

Eliza Ann Welcher, colored, aged 84 years, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James E. Watts, of No. 1101 Twelfth street, Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

Death was due to infirmities of old age. Mrs. Welcher was born at Staunton, Va., April 30, 1932, and prior to the Civil war lived in Charleston, W. Va., as slave. She had resided in Portsmouth since the autumn of 1864. The mother of four children, she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Watts, and one son, Arthur Hamilton of No. 1420 Waller street, and four grandchildren.

As to the cost of canalizing the lower Scioto, Professor Sherman writes that it should not exceed $100,000 per mile, while above Columbus the cost would be much less. He contrasts this with the New York barge canal, costing $300,000 a mile, and suggests the great advantage of such a canalized Scioto over the old-fashioned artificial channels. # LOOKS LIKE FAIR WEATHER--DUDLEY BARBER TO RECEIVE GIFTS

With the sun shining, the birds singing and all nature apparently attuned to the joys of the beautiful spring time, it now looks (a 9 a.m. Monday) like a 100 to 1 shot that tomorrow bids fair to be a fine day, beautifully adapted to the festivities incident to the presentation of the sixty odd gifts for Dudley Albert Barber, would be a day made to order. Portsmouth's first 1916 baby. Should the day be clear Dudley Albert is going to get those presents at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesso Barber, 1316 Union street. If it is not a suitable day the event will be postponed again. Definite announcement will be in Tuesday's Noon tion, and the parade will move promptly at 1:45 o'clock. The pageant will move north on Chillicothe street to Gallia, where a motion picture operator will be stationed to get views of the parade. Moving east on Gallia, the parade will go north on Offner to Twelfth street, thence west on into the Barber home and lay the gifts at the feet of Dudley Albert. It is hoped to make the occasion a gala one, and for those who have donated the gifts have entered into the spirit of the occasion in a right enthusiastic manner. The committee in charge of the affair is composed of Fred N. Tynes, Roy Compton and F. W. Sheridan, with Mr. Tynes in absolute charge. The pictures taken of the festivities will be shown at the Columbia theatre within a short time and this is one reason why clear weather is desired.

COUPLE SLEPT WHILE FIRE WAS RAGING IN THEIR ROOM

Pacefully slumbering, although the room was filled with smoke and flames were devouring the carpets and curtains, Mr. and Mrs. William Harris, 917 Washington street, were perhaps saved from death early Monday morning when Lincoln Housen, a local colored youth who rooms at the Harris home, discovered the fire and quickly seizing a blanket from the bed of the sleepers, smothered the fire. The sleepers were awakened by the cries of the boy who was fighting the fire. But before Mr. Harris could get out of his bed the boy had extinguished the fire.

Housen stated Monday that he was aroused from his slumber by a choking sensation. He arose and found his room filled with curling clouds of smoke. He hurried down stairs and found Harris' bed room was ablaze. At first he said he was badly frightened but he seized a blanket, and pulling the burning draperies from the windows, smothered them. The damage amounted to about $10, according to Harris, who is at loss to trace the origin of the fire.

"I did not call the department," said Housen, "for I did not think of it. About the only thing I was thinking of was Mr. Harris in there sleeping and the fire. So I did my best to put it out."

WANT 20 MORE TO SIGN UP FOR THE TRIP TO JACKSON

"We are going to meet at the new Republican club, which is over the Royal Savings and Loan company, Gallia street," said John F. Eckhart, chairman of the committee on arrangements for the big Republican "Get Together" banquet, which will be held at Jackson, Thursday evening, March 18th. "Thursday afternoon at a quarter of four o'clock, one hundred strong. And we are going to march to the Norfolk and Western depot with the crack River City band."

Enthusiasm over the trip to Jackson is bubbling among the ranks of the local Republicans. Eighty have signed up for the trip and twenty more are expected to be there. In all, Portsmouth will send about a hundred, while South Webster will contribute 25, Sciotoville 15 and the rural districts 15.

Henry Becker has been requested to take the leading role in the "Sword-swallowing act," which will be a highlight in Frank Stanton's minstrel. A rehearsal of those who intend to take part in the minstrel, which will be staged enroute to Jackson, will be held at the Smoke House sometime this week. Some of the latest vaudeville stunts will be included in the performance.

Besides the sumptuous feast, the Jackson Republicans have planned a "feast of reason and a flow of soul" that will be difficult to duplicate. Among the speakers will be Governor Frank B. Willis, Hon. Harry M. Daugherty, Hon. Myron T. Herrick, Hon. D. D. Wootman, Hon. Robert M. Switzer and Hon. Theo. E. Burton. United States Senator Warren G. Harding will be unable to attend, according to advices received from this distinguished statesman by local politicians.

"The time is growing near," says Mr. Eckhart, "and those intending to make the trip should sign up. Those desiring reservations should call at my office in the Masonic Temple. We always have room for one more."

Magnolia To Meet Tonight

Magnolia Lodge, Knights of Pythias, will meet this (Monday) evening. The first degrees will be staged and one or more candidates from the Page Rank, and degrees always draw a full house. Other important matters are to come before the Lodge and a full attendance is anticipated.

MACCABEES TO HOLD HOME COMING TONIGHT

Tonight the Macabees will hold their Roll Call Home Coming meeting and every Macabee in town is urged to be present at this meeting. A large crowd is expected from out of town and Great Commander Ed L. Young, from Norwalk, O., will be present.

ROBBERS LOOT M'MAHON HOME

A bold robbery that was committed at the home of John C. McMahon, a well-known letter carrier, of No. 1326 Ninth street, Saturday evening, is thought to have been the work of hobo beggars.

The house was ransacked from top to bottom, the floors being strewn with the contents of drawers that had been emptied, in a search for money and valuables. Burned matches were scattered all over the house, showing that the robbers had spent considerable time there.

Between $1 and $5 in money was taken, including forty-five cents that was in the children's bank, which was kept on the kitchen shelf. The balance was taken from a bed-room.

Quite a quantity of jewelry was carried off by the thieves, five ladies' rings, men's gold band ring and Mrs. McMahon's little open-faced silver watch. The rings included her wedding ring, which is a big plain band, with the name "Celia" set in big block letters, and on the inside the date August 2, 1909, inscribed; a small diamond ring and an amethyst set ring with a little diamond cross set, and a plain gold band ring with the date of Mrs. McMahon's first communion inscribed. The silverware and the children's necklaces were not disturbed.

The robbery was discovered by Mr. and Mrs. McMahon upon returning home at 8:15 o'clock, and occurred while they were attending the mission services at Holy Redeemer church. Two hobos had been begging in the vicinity about six o'clock and likely saw the McMahon family leave their home at 8:15.

The robbers are believed to have still been in the house when the family returned. Mrs. McMahon, as she approached the house, noticed that one of the front blinds had been pulled down, while another was off its roller. This excited her suspicions at once, and they were increased when Mr. McMahon was unable to unlock the front door with his key. Mrs. McMahon erased the glass in the front door and was enabled to get a good eight street to telephone for the police, hours sleep without getting i while her husband walked around and out bed several times during the night. The kitchen door was unlocked. Ent erance to the house was evidently gained through the front door with a skeleton key.

WOMAN IS BADLY HURT WHEN AUTO GOES OVER BANK ON SCIOTO TRAIL

Mrs. William Birch was badly injured and her husband William Birch, baby daughter Elma, nine months old, Howard, Lena and Garnet Birch and Mrs. Birch's sister, Miss Pearl Trace, narrowly escaped serious injury about four o'clock Saturday afternoon when William Birch lost control of his new Overland touring car and went over the west bank of Scioto Trail at the Timothy Jewett farm. Mr. and Mrs. Birch live on Cedar street and Miss Trace on Rhodes avenue, New Boston.

The party was returning from an automobile ride out Scioto Trail and were going at a fair rate of speed when the car suddenly swerved to one side and went over the bank. The occupants were thrown out as the car left the road or some of the party would probably have been killed.

The machine turned over several times in its flight down the steep bank. Elma, the baby, was found lying on her back in the middle of the pike, uninjured. The other children escaped with slight lacerations as did Miss Trace.

Mrs. Birch was unable to move and was unconscious when picked up. She was at once taken to Hempstead hospital where an examination of her injuries showed she was suffering with a bruise on the left temple which caused her left eye to be badly swollen and congested. Her left shoulder was badly bruised and she suffered with hemorrhages of the nose for several hours. She vomited blood for several hours and did not regain consciousness until she was in the hospital for two hours. Mr. Birch suffered badly sprained left knee.

The car which Mr. Birch received about a month ago was badly damaged. The top was wrecked, the fenders were twisted, windshield and lamps smashed, steering gear bent and radiator damaged. The machine was taken to the Bower garage for repairs. Mr. Birch is a well known steel worker. Mrs. Birch was resting easy at the Hempstead hospital Monday.

GREEN TWP. COMMENCEMENT APRIL 29

At the regular meeting of the Green township board of education Saturday afternoon at Junior Furniture, W. L. Richey, a member of the county board of education, was authorized to make arrangements for the annual commencement exercises of the township high school April 29.

E. O. McCowen, county superintendent, who attended the meeting, discussed some important questions concerning the betterment of rural schools.

VISITOR FROM HONOLULU

Simon Brown, formerly manager of the house furnishing department of the Anderson Brothers company, returned Saturday from Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, for a few days' visit with local relatives and friends.

Mr. Brown left Portsmouth seven years ago and since that time has been engaged in business at Seattle, Wash., and Honolulu. He was surprised to see the many improvements in Portsmouth since his last visit and stated he was glad to see Portsmouth taking such rapid strides.

LAST SAD TRIBUTES PAID TO JUDGE J. W. BANNON

BANKS OF FLOWERS SHOW THE ESTEEM IN WHICH HE WAS HELD

With tear-stained cheeks and drooping eyes, Portsmouth paused Monday morning to place a wreath of loving tribute upon the casket that held all that is mortal of the late Judge James W. Bannon, who passed away at Los Angeles, Cal., last Tuesday following an attack of heart trouble. Shortly before the funeral services, which were held at the late home Monday at 10 o'clock, a veil of grey hovered over the sun and a gentle rain fell. It was a fitting homage to a man who has left the community the heritage of a character towering high in strength and simpiety.

Citizens from all walks of life; men high in the financial and railroad and judicial circles; men from clerical positions; men from the cleanly cultivated fields all paused to pay their last respects to their friend, their counsellor and their banker. With bared heads and tear-dimmed eyes youth, manhood and old age passed before the coffin, which was resting in the center of a bank of flowers and evergreen, to glance upon the features of their friend and business associate of yesterday.

Funeral Held At Hour of Ten

The deep-toned bell at the cemetery softly announced the hour of ten Dr. John C. Jackson, former pastor of the Bigelow Methodist church and now superintendent of the Chillicothe Methodist church district, arose and with quivering voice said:

"Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God. Thou sayest, 'Return, Ye children of men.' For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night. Thou carriest them away as with the flood, they are as a sleep; in the morning they are like grass which groweth up. In the morning it flourishest and groweth up; in the evening it is cut down, and withereth. For we are consumed by thine anger and by thy wrath we are troubled. Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, our secret sins in the light of thy countenance. For all our days are passed away in thy wrath; we spend our years as a tale that is told. The days of our years are three score years and ten; and if by reason of strength they be four score years, yet is their strength, labor and sorrow; for it is soon cut off, and we fly away. Who knoweth the power of thine anger? Even according to thy fears, so in thy wrath. So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom."

"Oh, Lord, satisfy us early with thy mercy; that we may rejoice to be glad all our days. Make us glad according to the days wherein thou has afflicted us and the years wherein we have seen evil. Let thy work appear unto thy servants, and thy glory unto their children. And let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us: and establish thou the work of our hands upon us; Yea the work of our hands establish thou it."

Pastor Reads Beautiful Poem

Dr. C. E. Chandler, pastor of the Bigelow Methodist church, read a beautiful little poem which Mr. George Ott Newman, a life-long friend of the late Judge James W. Bannon, delivered at a birthday banquet given in honor of the seventieth birthday of the deceased, saying: "These verses, read by a life long friend upon the seventieth birthday of Judge Bannon, were deemed so expressive by the judge and his friends that it seems appropriate to read them upon this occasion, in lieu of any remarks:

Three score year and ten, how long that vista,

Viewed from the primrose path of youth, appears!

How short, when at the sunset and the twilight!

We look far back along the vanished years!

Those happy days, when youth was ever sending

Across our way, its beam of joy and light;

When smiling hope our path was bending,

In rainbow hues, her bow of promise bright.

Some by the wayside fell, alas! how frequent

The silent graves along the bil-lowed slopes;

More frequent still, the sadder lonelier graveyards

Of dead ambitions and buried hopes.

But, to the one who fought the battle bravely

And conquered in the well-contested strife,

The three score years and ten are honored badges

That teach the meaning and the worth of life.

The guest tonight: How may he look with pleasure

Over all the unreturning years and know,

That all the roseate promise of the morning

Shone through his day, down to the evening glow.

And what a pleasing retrospect it shows him,

The "troops of friends," high honors, fairly won,

The love of those who knew him best and longest

And more than all the sense of duty done.

We honor him tonight for all the graces,

For every trait that friend to friend endears,

But tried by words alone, or en-

ual greetings,

But the long test of seventy strenuous years.

And may his coming days all pass serenely

By the still waters and the pastures green,

Long peaceful years, by loving ones surrounded

And full honors as the past has been.

One parting word: Well has the poet written

That, "Love is flower like, Friendship a sheltering tree." We know, through all the years, both tree and flower Have bloomed and blossomed there, for you and me.

"He, whosoever believeth in the resurrection shall not die everlastingly."

This was followed by the beautiful psalm: "The Lord is My Shepherd."

Rev. John W. Dillon, former pastor of the Bigelow church and a life long friend of the late Judge Bannon with a voice filled with grief said:

"Lord, have mercy upon us; rest upon and remain with us evermore. Amen."

The simple services were concluded with the foregoing prayer.

Silently the pall bearers carried the casket to the hearse and the last journey to Greenlawn was begun.

There, surrounded by a saddened host, the casket was lowered into its final resting place.

Huge Banks Of Flowers

The huge banks of flowers offered their mute testimony of the high regard which the community held the late Judge Bannon. The board of trade's offering was a large circle, composed of wax like green leaves and velvety red American beauty roses.

Pale white lilies intertwined

among a basket of yellow roses and small ever-green sprays, silently voiced the grief of the officials of the Selby Shoe company.

A blooming pedestal venerated with a coating of snowy white narissus, through which was threaded small veins ever-green and bay-leaf hairpins, stood a living testimony of the esteem of the Scioto

County Bar association.

A huge basket filled to the overflowing with slender white lilies and budding yellow roses was the offering sent by the employees of the Excelsior Shoe company.

Upon the lid of the casket lay a living mass of half opened pink rose buds, a tribute from the grandchildren.

In the center of the multi-eatered bank of resplendent blooms was a large triangle of red roses

the center of which was white and within small purple flowers forming the numerals "32" a tribute from the Portsmouth Thirty Second Degree Masonic Club.

Then close to the foot of the loving bank, was a beautiful Ma-of an inverted square, upon which lay a pair of compasses. It was lined with rose buds.

JUDGE JAMES W. BANNON

ALL WORK WAS SUSPENDED DURING FUNERAL HOUR AS MARK OF RESPECT

Mayor H. H. Kaps, as a mark of respect to the memory of Judge J. W. Bannon, ordered a suspension of all work as far as possible in the various city departments between 10 and 11 o'clock Monday morning. At his suggestion patrolmen were stationed in the vicinity of the First National bank.

A tall oval shaped basket from which tumbled a perfect deluge of white and pink roses, pink and white carnations and white narcissus, was the offering sent by the First National bank.

A bower of evergreen through which nodded a hundred pink rose buds, was sent by the employes of the First National bank.

This was followed by the employes of the Excelsior Shoe company.

Rev. John W. Dillon, former pastor of the Bigelow church and a life long friend of the late Judge Bannon with a voice filled with grief said:

"Lord, have mercy upon us; rest upon and remain with us evermore. Amen."

The simple services were concluded with the foregoing prayer.

Silently the pall bearers carried the casket to the hearse and the last journey to Greenlawn was begun.

There, surrounded by a saddened host, the casket was lowered into its final resting place.

GREENWOOD DECKHANDS GO OUT ON A STRIKE

Relative to a strike deck hands of the steamer Greenwood inaugurated at Ironton Saturday, the Ironton Irontonian of that city, Sunday morning said:

"Claiming that they were underpaid, eleven deck hands of the steamer Greenwood went on a strike at the Ironton wharf boat landing Saturday afternoon. The eleven represented all but three of the force of deck hands of the boat. The captain claimed that their demand was unwarranted and that it should have been made before the boat left Cincinnati."

"The deck hands claimed that they were receiving 80 cents a day and board and that they were being overworked, as the river trade has 'picked up' enormously during the last few months. They wanted a dollar a day but the captain claimed that they should have made before the boat left Cincinnati."

A Glover street domestic was on the police carpet until a late hour Sunday night to explain her presence in the vicinity of the John C. McMahon house when it was robbed Saturday night.

ALL WATER CUT OFF AS U. S. FORT BURNS PREPARING NET ALONG BORDER TO CAPTURE VILLA WASHINGTON IN SUSPENSE AWAITING NEWS FROM GEN. FUNSTON

TROOPS AND GUNS BEING ASSEMBLED; A RING OF STEEL TO SURROUND VILLA

El Paso, Texas, March 13.—Daylight today revealed the beginnings of the expeditionary force which the United States army is gathering along the border west of here to use in the pursuit of Francisco Villa.

Six mountain guns, unloaded during the night, were in readiness at Columbus, New Mexico.

Fifty-seven carloads of buttery mules and transports, animals; also arrivals of the night, gave evidence that modern guns were coming. Eleven hundred men were in the Columbus camp this morning.

Reports about Villa's activity were hazy.

Aiding the military, other branches of the government service were active tonight.

The dragnet for Villa sympathizers in El Paso last night resulted in the arrest of four generals, one general's secretary, a physician and an American.

The generals, all former Villa commanders, were Manuel Medina, once chief of staff, Julio Fabela, Samuel Rodriguez and Juan Rodriguez.

The Americans gave his name to the police as E. A. Talbot. The physician, Dr. Villareal, was formerly an active Villa worker.

The uneasiness which prevailed at Deming, New Mexico, after the Columbus raid, has been relieved by the arrival there of two companies of the Twentieth United States infantry from Fort Bliss.

It is reported that a few caution had been discharged in Mexican hills facing the American boundary near there, but elsewhere along the line where the American troops were gathering no signs of disquieting activity along the Mexican side were reported. Reports here that army officers at Columbus were puzzled at the attitude of Carranza troops several miles across the boundary were denied upon investigation. The army information was that 200 Carranza troops had gathered at Palomas, about twelve miles across the line from Columbus, and that the conduct of these troops was exemplary. These Palomas troops were part of a great ring which Carranza offers at Matamoros say they are drawing about the desert and mountain refugees of Villa.

The northern section of this ring appears to be gathering in a position to make it rest between Villa and the assembling American columns on the American side of the border. Reliable information has been received from American sources that the western side of the ring has been much strengthened, especially in the direction of the 500 American Mormon colonists near Casas Grandes, about 175 miles south of the border, where Villa's maneuvers have raised the fear that he intended to attack the Americans. Reports about Villa's activity were hazy.

Columbus, N. M., March 13.—Actual concentration of United States troops for an expedition into Mexico to try to capture Francisco Villa was begun here today.

From the heavy troop movement to Columbus, it would seem, according to officers on station here, that this point is to be made a base of operations. It was believed here that John J. Pershing, brigadier-general, commanding the eighth brigade, would be designated to take charge of the expeditionary force and would make Columbus his headquarters.

The force of General Pablo Berardi, commanding the Carranza garrison at Palomas, on the Mexican side of the border south of here, was increased today by the arrival of 300 men, bringing his force to a total of 2,000.

By night, or tomorrow, it is expected that the American garrison here of 1,100 men will be augmented by the arrival of two regiments of infantry, a signal company, a hospital detachment and some mountain artillery from Fort Bliss at El Paso and a battery of the Sixth Field Artillery from Nogales, Arizona. Two squadrons of the twelfth cavalry from Fort Robinson, Nebraska, are expected later. All save the cavalry from Fort Robinson, which is to go on station here, are to be available for expeditionary purposes.

Reports were received here also that a squadron of the Tenth cavalry and a battery of the Fifth field artillery are on the way from Douglas, probably bound for Columbus. It was expected, too, that all available forces of the seventh cavalry, 400 men, are in the field in the Alamo-Hueco district, between Nogales and Benson, in Southern Arizona.

The battery of mountain artillery from Fort Bliss is equipped with twelve mountain guns, especially designed for the character of fighting, which the punitive expedition is expected to do. Two troops of the 18th cavalry, F and H, which have been on patrol duty at Hermas, 20 miles west of here, also have returned to camp preparatory to the dispatching of an expeditionary force.

In striking contrast to the excitement of the last few days, preparation for the departure of the expedi-

PUBLIC TO KNOW EXPEDITION NEWS

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Official Washington was in suspense early today awaiting official announcement that American troops were over the Mexican border, carrying the vengeance of an outraged nation to the bandit Villa and his followers for the Columbus, New Mexico, massacre.

The war department was besieged with inquiries. Newspaperners gathered about the door leading to Secretary Baker's office. He had promised there would be no delay; that messages from General Funston announcing the expeditionary forces were on their way would be published immediately upon their receipt. The secretary said he believed them entitled to know promptly what is being done by the government to avenge the Columbus massacre, and he authorized the installation of special equipment for the press in order that the word might be flashed over the country when it came.

There was no assurance, however, that General Funston would advise the department before his men were well on the march south.

President Wilson was due home early today on the naval yacht Mayflower from a week-end trip. There was no need for him to look at the night's crop of dispatches from the border. Every important development in the situation was sent to the Mayflower by radio, as she steamed up the Potomac last night.

Probably the first business to which Mr. Wilson planned to turn his attention, however, was his conference with Secretary Lansing returning to El Paso, and then be assigned by General Funston to border duty.

Secretary Baker explained the movement of the 23rd by saying that great apprehension was felt in many border towns that the Columbus raid might be repeated.

It is proposed to give General Funston ample force both for the expedition and to protect border residents.

While strictest secrecy was maintained by the war department as to the force General Funston has designated to pursue Villa, information from the border pointed toward a force of cavalry, mountain artillery and engineers which would total between five thousand and six thousand men.

Detachments of artillery and cavalry now on the border have been moving within the last day or two with no more definite announced destination than eastward or westward. Observers, however, have noticed these detachments are all seasoned forces composed of men who have been long on the border. It is vital to the undertaking that men and mounts are able to stand the terrible strain they will be under in miles of deep sand which is Villa's great natural defense.

Charleston, W. Va., March 13.—Former Governor William Mercer Owens Dawson, twelfth governor of the state of West Virginia, died Sunday. He has been in ill health for over a year.

London, March 13.—It was officially announced at the British admiralty today that the Mercantile fleet auxiliary Fauvette of 2,644 tons gross, has been sunk as the result of striking a mine off the east coast of England. Fourteen members of the crew were lost.

Monterey, Calif., March 13.—The Monterey presidio was totally destroyed by fire early today, about six hours after being vacated by troops of the first cavalry who left for the Mexican border. Firemen attempting to extinguish the flames found that the water supply had been cut.

BANK CALL 200 Autos Offered

Chicago, March 13.—A local taxi-cab company operating 200 cabs in this city, has offered the war department the use of all its machines with chauffeurs. The chauffeurs had all volunteered for service in case of need on the Mexican border.

P. H. S. IS DEFEATED BY PLEASANT HILL, WOULD MAKE ELIMINATED FROM BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

Portsmouth's high school crack basketball team was eliminated from the state tournament Saturday morning when the locals lost to Pleasant Hill by a score of 21 to 19, one of the closest scores made during the tournament.

It was a heart breaker but the locals took their defeat like men and returned home Sunday night with the spirit that they would be back next year and do better. This year is the first time P. H. S. has ever been represented in the state meet, and the team made a splendid showing. The following teams were entered in the tournament:

Academy, Grove City, Tippecanoe City, Springfield, Chillicothe, Marion, Newville, Ashville, Westerville, Pleasant Hill, Middlefield, Portsmouth, Washington, C. H., Marietta, West High, of Columbus, Delaware, Newville, Bellair, Xenia, Piqua, N. Lewisburg, Conover, Bell Center, Newark, and Plain City. Fourteen teams lost out Friday morning and seven more in the afternoon.

The games played Friday and Saturday were for the championship of the southern half of the state. Last Friday and Saturday games were played for the championship of the northern division, the two teams coming out victorious being Mt. Vernon and East Liverpool. Marietta and Stivers high won out this last Friday and Saturday. This coming Friday Mt. Vernon will meet East Liverpool to decide the championship of the northern division and Marietta will clash with Stivers high to decide the southern division title. The winners Friday will meet Saturday to play for the championship of the state. The games are being played in the Ohio Wesleyan University gymnasium.

Friday morning Portsmouth won from Washington C. H. by a score of 38 to 7, the locals having no trouble at all in scoring on their opponents. The score:

ODD AND ALSO IMPOSSIBLE

In drafting a statute to make the recently adopted prohibition amendment effective, the Virginia legislature has included a provision, adopted with the full consent of the Anti-Saloon managers, that all cider sold or used in the state must be made in Virginia. This is a most remarkable provision, especially to receive the approbation of godly temperance leaders and the votes of legislators, most of whom are lawyers. The vilest, meanest and most deleterious intoxicant is hard cider. Its victim is the most wretched of all drunkards. Compared with it 40-rod whiskey is an emollient, a balm, a blessing, bear more innocuous than a baby food. But the "temperance" powers of the Old Dominion propose to allow it, provided they alone are permitted to make it. But the thing can not be "did." The statutes and constitution of these United States stand firm and immovable against it. The federal law sometimes runs riot on the matter of protection and embargo, but it will not allow the separate states to blunder and sin likewise. No commonwealth can pass an act—yes it can too for there is no law preventing a legislature making an ass of itself—no commonwealth then can enforce a measure, scheme or device which gives it monopoly against a sister state. Virginia can prohibit the manufacture and sale of malt, vinous, or spirituous liquors within her own confines, shutting herself off and the other states out, but she can't say she'll set up an exclusive privilege in herself to make and dispose of cider, not to legal effect.

NO WONDER THEY DID IT

There was a vast fuss and fury over the McLemore resolution, the test of whether or not this or that congressman was standing back of the president. The measure was rejected, spurned, slaughtered by two to one and by that same token two congressmen were with Woodrow to one against him, in preserving the peace in dignity and honor, even if there has to be a fight for it. Of course, it seems like rather big odds, considering how politics runs in the land, but a part must be laid to the idea that some of those patriotic representatives of the plain people were making a rapid calculation while the vote was going on as to which side would furnish the butter for their bread. Then there was, doubtless something in the author that led to the coarse and bloody assassination of his resolution, and we rather opine it was his name. For hear ye, he doesn't bear the patronymic of the ordinary mortal, but some unusual, syc, even outré. His full cognomen is Jeff McLemore. Not the Christian Jefferson, after the patron saint of Democracy, nor yet just common Jeff, but Jeff, yes sir, would you ever believe, Jeff McLemore, he himself informing the country, through the congressional director, that it is even so, particularly the colon.

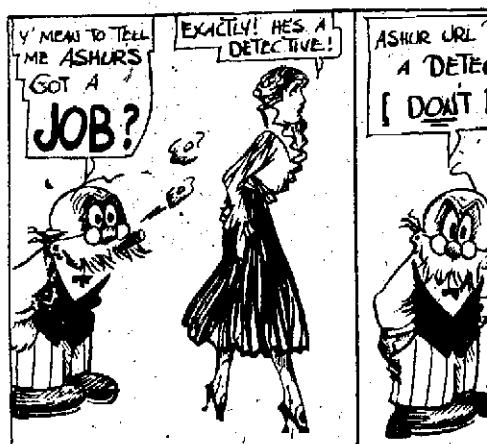

A New York court decides that a theatre management can bar from it a newspaper writer, whose reviews of the plays therein it does not like. Of a verity the tribunal goes further than that and holds that any place of amusement, may if so choose, exclude any individual therefrom because he has blue hair, or red eyes, or is bald headed. All of which may be good law, but shows are rotten enough already.

The joke is right now on our valuable G. O. P. contemporaries, all more or less given to the boiler plate disease. They published a speech delivered by our good young governor at Tiffin, and accompanied it with fulsome eulogium. It so happens our good young governor didn't deliver that speech at all. When he faced his audience he found he had the wrong dope and he gave them something entirely different from what had been sent out in plate form.

The esteemed Portsmouth, Va., Star refers to one as a "suppositions" Democrat. Suppositions is sure good. It gives the idea of how quickly and completely the species can change its mind as the pap flows.

Some papers talk about that $670,000 Charlie Chaplin salary as though they didn't know better than ninety per cent is added for publicity's sake.

POLLY AND HER PALS

SEVERAL BORN EVERY MINUTE?

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O-O-McINTYRE.

New York, March 13.—A lot of magazine illustrators—or maybe it would be better to call them manufacturers—are going to have to get down to herd pan sortly or go to work. They are being elbowed out of their jobs by the movie actors.

The illustrations for the principal serial now running in a big weekly magazine were posed by movie actors and it is said that many more are not only to follow in this magazine but many others.

New York art editors have long complained that illustrators do not attend to the detail of their work and are slip shod. If the girl in the story is a small dark person with a piquantly tip tilted nose, the illustrator shows a big statuesque blond Venus.

If she wears a sweater and totes a dog she is shown in an evening gown and if she is supposed to be sitting on a rustic bench the illustrator will show her talking to the leader of an orchestra. In other words the artists do not seem bound to the author's necessarily foolish ideas.

Now movie actors are hired and the best picture on the film is enlarged, the back ground improved and illustrations made from it.

The members of the New York Correspondents' Club put on the "feed bags" at the McAlpin Winter Garden last week. The club is composed of the men who send news from New York to big newspapers of other cities.

One requirement for membership is that the correspondent shall be a "direct wire" man. That is, he must have direct telegraphic connection between his office in New York and the office of his newspaper.

The club now has more than 40 members and under a special provision the number includes representatives of newspapers in Buenos Ayres, Tokio, Havana and Mexico City. The European correspondents have their own club but they are not fraternizing.

Broadway makes New York look like a county fair. Those figures that drop in parachutes, the banners, kite fashion; that advertise gum and musical comedies, and the green structures of the subway are characteristic.

The Board of Aldermen have deprived sandwich men of their occupation by barring walking advertisements but they do not seem to object to the floating ones which are much more unobjectionable.

More than 50 sandwich men known well to Broadwayites have been forced to move to the less populated streets. They are offensive and with many of them it is about the only way they can keep from starving.

March
Now March succeeds the late deceased,

To winter's fag-end faded;
With lengthening days, and cold decreased,

With springtime hopes full freighted;

With softening soil—by some termed mud,

With bird, and bee, and creeps, And sap-thrilled bough and tree,

gent bud,

And all such bocca-poems; With boreal blast and balmy breath,

'Times' mild, 'times' tanged intensely;

To some folk fearsome 'most death,

By some admired immensely;

With large relief from sundry ills Say winter-itch and chilblains, And frozen pipes and plumbers bills,

And frequent fuel-bill pains; With tempers, twain, traducers charge,

Both lamb and lion showing;

Hap so; yet pleasant, by and large,

Tho' none need mourn her going.
